Takayasu Bando single handedly began the orchards of bando farm.

Around 1960, he was growing the plants(hanaokura), which was used to make washi paper and wheat, and also growing rice in terraced rice paddies at 400m elevation with his cattle. Takayasu Bando became interested in citrus cultivation, replanted his fields, planted seedlings of sudachi with his wife Michiko, and started Bando farm, an orchard of yuzu and yuko. We created hearty soil, developed a compost field, and established a system to return the fertilizer to the field. In 2003 we received certification for organic cultivation and processing of fruit and "Awa bancha" tea. We will continue our efforts to protect the global environment and nature, and to carry on the local culture with responsibility as a producer.

Yuzu, Sudachi, Yuko...

It is said that sudachi has been cultivated in Tokushima Prefecture since as far as back as the Manyo period(710-794). The aroma and taste of citrus fruits grown in Kamikatsu village, where there is a large temperature difference between day and night, is said to be the best.

Yuzu

Yuzu is citrus fruit originally from Yangtze, China. The Color is yellow and the size is from 5cm to 9cm and weighing about 120-130g. Yuzu has a distinctive refreshing aroma and refreshing sourness.

Sudachi

Sudachi is citrus fruit originally from Tokushima, Japan. The Color is dark green and equal in size to golf ball. It has fantastic flavor and strong refreshing sourness.

Yuko

Yuko is citrus fruit. 99% of total production of yukoh is from Tokushima, Japan, however; its origin is uncertain. The color is yellow, but verges on orange compared to Yuzu. The size is between sudachi and Yuzu. Yuko doesn't have much impact for scent compared with sudachi, however; have a combine of acid and mellowness.
